LOCAL MISCELLANY.

JESSIE MAULLARD STILL IN THE TOMBS. Jessie Maillard, who was indicted for perjury by the Grand Jury on Friday, did not secure bail yesteray. District-Attorney McKeon, when asked by the case was sent to the Grand Jury after that only had once dismissed it, said that insufficient ridence had been produced at the first examination, the when he became convinced that imbedy had once dismissed it, said that insumerent evidence had been produced at the first examination, and when he became convinced that important evidence had not been heard, he obtained from Judge Gildersieeve an order resubmitting the case to the Grand Jury. It was learned that when the case was first heard in the Poince Court a lady who had become interested in Jessie Maillard went to a member of the firm of H. K. & F. B. Thurber & Co., and with him visited the District-Attorney and persuaded him that the young woman had been crueily treated. After the Grand Jury had discussed the case Mr. Thurber and the lady mentioned became convinced that they had been deceived as to her character. It was said that she had refused to live with her mother, who had offered her a home, and that her conduct has been such that her friends consider her irrectainable. The complainant charged that he had been amoyed and damaged by the conduct of the young woman, who had visited his office and sent him annoying letters. The case was again sent to the Grand Jury, who promptly found her guilty of perjury, additional evidence having been Jessie Maillard was seen in the Tombs by a produced.

Jessie Maillard was seen in the Tembs by a TRIBUNE reporter yesterday. "I don't know why 'Joe' Levi has had me arrested and tocked up here," she said. "He is the very last man who should have done this. I never have annoved him. He was my betrayer, and all I ask is money enough to enable me to quit the city and go elsewhere. I would go to Chicago, or some far-away city, and never trouble him araim. I have an account in the German Savings Bank for my baby. Here is the book." The book showed that the first deposit was made on February 20. The account was entered in the name of "Jessie Levi in trust for Joseph Emil Levi."

ROUGH WEATHER AT SEA.

The bark Robert Murray, jr., Castain Brandt, which arrived at this port yesterday from Havana, reports having encountered heavy gales and rough weather during the entire voyage. Early on October 13 her jibboom was swept away, and her feeks and upper works were bulged and started. In an hour there were five feet of water in the hold, and the men were put to work to pump it out. They were compelled to lash themselves to the railing to prevent being washed overboard by the heavy seas which broke over the ship continuously. I wo men were swept over the railing, I'wo men were swept over the railing, about this tanding this precaution into the water. Eopes were east to them, and one of them was palled on board again. The other sailor, Peter E. Eversen, a Dane, had been carried beyond the length of the rope, and he was drowned.

PREE TEACHING OF INDUSTRIAL ARTS.

FREE TEACHING OF INDUSTRIAL ARTS. The managers of the Society of Decorative Art are enceavoring to extend their educational work in the direction of free instruction in the minor industrial arts. They wish to form large classes in plain sewing, embroidery, wood-carving, hammered brass, mosaic work and in the rudiments of modeling and design. This experience during the last five years proves, they say, that there is a broad field of usefulness comparatively untouched in the training of children of both sexes, from nine to fifteen years of age, in industries both useful and pleasant, and that the teaching need not interfere with their regalar school duties. To carry out these plans subscriptions, either annual or special, are asked from those who are interested in the worthy poor, who wish to help themselves, and in the elevation of the oor in turir homes. Subscriptions for this find may be sent to the society's rooms No. 28 East the poor in their homes. Subscriptions for this ad may be sent to the society's rooms No. 28 East

LEAVING HIS WIFE IN THREE DAYS. A Hebrew woman of middle age went to Police Headquarters yesterday and demanded that the police should begin an immediate search for her nusband, Max Fischer. She said that she came to this country from Russia only a few months 180, upon the death of her first husband. In Williamsburg, where she obtained employment, the met Fischer, who is a tailor. They were marked on Sunday last, after a short acquaintance, and went to live on the top floor of No. 96 Hestert. Fischer disappeared on Tuesday. She wanted im found immediately.

Long Island Sound. Menhaden were captured in large numbers. A singular sight occurred near Lace's Landing. Northville, where a large shark was seen to attack a school of fish, driving them in a body toward shore. Several men got a seine in a boat and rowed through the dense mass of fish, so thick as to interfere with their oars, and succeeded in capturing over 12,000. The fishermen estimate that there must have been 100,000 fish inside of their net at one time, the shark ail the while killing them by the powerful strokes of his tail, which was twelve feet in length. He would throw the fish out of the water ten or afteen feet sometimes. At the old fishing ground hauls were made on the same afternoon, aggregating some 60,000.

DISCONTENT IN THE UNION CLUB.

THE MEMBERS NOT SATISFIED WITH THE ACTION

OF THE GOVERNORS IN THE LOUBAT SUIT. A popular uprising at the Union Club is imminent. The indications thereof are numerous. Yesterday afternoon and evening groups of members gathered in the parlors, and long discussions were in progress between excited pairs before the clubhouse. Young men shock their canes and old men shook their heads, and vigorous speeches such as had not been known in the neighborhood since last spring were heard on every side. "This place is ruled by a clique," exclaimed one indignant member "and it rules with a rod of iron. The Governors and their friends are the only people who know anything of the club's affairs. We know nothing. We are minors; they are our guardians. They diet us and we never get what we want."

What do you want now f" "We want to see the answer to that Loubat complaint. Every man in the club wants to see it.
But the Governing Committee savs we mustn't.
But we will all the same. Think of dragging the club into court any way. The Club will be worsted; of course it will. But unless the papers print the procee. Ings we will never know anything about them. We will never know when we are beaten. And then here is Mr. Robinson, a member of the club, selected to present the case. The other side would have a perfect right to examine Mr.
Robinson as a member of the club. That would be an interesting complication, wouldn't it? Besides, Mr. Robinson was placed in charge after the case had been pedded round rmong other lawyers.
Mr. Baurs was offered the case first, I understand.
That is, a nice position in which to place the Union Club. However, now that we are in the case we want to know the ground we stand on. So we are "We want to see the answer to that Loubat com-

After | in order to restrict the supply, after mentioning the loss

Another still more serious danger attending the present condition is that the upper stories of houses are deprived of water, and the various avenues of house-pipe communication with the sewers become so many death traps to the humates who breaths the interest air. No one can estimate the number of broken constitutions and shortened fives that have brought sorrow and suffering into many a home resulting from the polluned air. A leading article in the November number of The Popular Science Monthly on sewage gas thoroughly reviews the harmful influence of such poison in the increase of death-rate in New York from 1881 to 1882. An increase of 20 per cent is due chiefly to this cause. The writer, however, does not seem aware that this escape of gas is due principally to empty plumbing in story after story, and the empty plumbing is directly caused by loss of pressure. This condition is unavoidable while the water demand so far outstrips the supply, and things must grow steadily worse until a new conduit is constructed, and the waste stopped to bridge over the interval.

OUTDOOR SPORTS,

SIX HOURS OF LACROSSE THE HARVARD AND NEW-YORK TEAMS TIED FOR

FIRST PLACE-THE LONG DISTANCE THROWING. The lacrosse season for 1882 was brought to a chee yesterday afternoon by a tournament. For ne time the National Amateur Association has been perfecting the details for the contests which were played yesterday at the Polo Grounds-Golding, the caretaker, succeeded in getting the turf in fine condition. The weather was everything that could be desired, and the thousand or more spectators, many of whom were ladies, were liberal in their appliance and so enthusiastic about the playing that nearly all of them insted.

Soon after 12 o'clock, the teams from Harvard and Yale took their positions. They proved to be a fine lot of young athletes, who when they handle their sticks a little better will make very strong teams. On Harvard's side, starting with the goal Raper, there played Ennis, Nichols, Marquand, Noyes and Woods; for Yule, in the same order, there were Connell, Castle, k, Barbour, Mailon, Ayres, Bowen, Spencer, and McDowell. As soon as the ball was faced it was seen that the Harvard men played well together. They put Yale on the defensive immediately. The New-Haven the crimson, and the result was that Harvard took two Yale men now rallied and played better for thirty-five minutes, which finished the time limit.

CLOSE OF THE YACHTING SEASON.

The last of the races for cutters and sloops from the east-northeast. At 10:40 a whistle from the quarter flew the white foam nearly up to her chain plates and uningled with the broad wake that spread out like a fan astern, fill it was lost and mincled with the tumbling sea. Not far benind the trace came the cutter Grivs and the compromise vessel Valkyr. They were side by side, and it seemed as if the Valkyr would cross the line first, but Commodore Lee trimmed in his sheets and the cutter passed over ahead. Then came George Gould's sloop Farsta, and last the large cutter Bedouin. The cutters were making heavy weather of it; the Bedouin especially seemed to have all her ballast amid-ships, and every wave tossed her out of water so that her copper sheathing gleamed in the smilght and her keel was visible for several feet. In the run out to the whistling buoy, the Bedouin drew ahead of everything except the Gracie, and the Valkynr dropped astern. It was anyone's trace hetween the Gracie and the Bedouin, and the second-class cup evidently lay between the Fanita and the Corva. On rounding the buoy, sure of $3,150, which is 70 per cent of the fleet in fine style.

The Oriva and her jib-topsail up and she carried it out to the lightship. The Bedouln on rounding rau up her jib-topsails, but the Valkyr soon after yard withfrew from the race. On the run to buoy No. 5, the Gracie gained slightly on the Bedouln on the Bedouln and the distance between the Fanalta. and the Oriva was so much lessened that it was doubtful which would win. By the time the whistling buoy was reached the second time, the wind had named four points to the south, and was blowing from the case of derk bine water, diversified here and there by long streaks of green. The Gracie still kept the lead of the Bedouin, and the Oriva and Fanita came ploughing almost side by side in a cloud of spray. On rounding the lightship a second time, the lightship a second time, the lightship a second time, all the racers set their spinnakers, the Fanita, however, being a long while in doing it. The Bedouin seemed to be gaining on the Gracie, but the sloop set mer club-topsail and kept good the distance between herself and the cutter. Suce ame in first, winning the race by 2 minutes and 15 seconds. The Oriva and the Fanita were close together, but the former crossed the line 15 seconds thead of her rival. Thus one cutter won and one sloop. The time was as follows:

FITZGERALD WINS THE RACE.

END OF THE SIX-DAYS' WALK. ONLY FOUR MEN CONTINUE TO THE LAST-THE AF-FAIR A FINANCIAL FAILURE.

The six-days' walking match came to an end last night at 10 o'clock. The winner, Patrick Fitzgerald, made a score of 572 2-8 miles, which is 23 niles less than the distance covered by Hazael in February. Of the nine men who entered the race only four of them completed it. The attendance through the week was small, and the finish was without interest.

The last day of the walk was uneventful. Hart left the track at about 2:30 a. m., and soon after he gave formal notice of his withdrawal from the race One reason for his retirement, no doubt, was the fact that it looked as if the winner would be the only man that would get any money. He would be sure of $3,150, which is 70 per cent of the sweepstakes, even if the gate receipts me along."

During the afternoon little animation was shown by the few people in the building. The band played spasmodically, and every one in the Garden had a listless air. The score at 6 o'clock was as follows: Miles Lapa Fitzgerald 673 3 Herty Nureanc 555 2 Hughes Miles Laps. ...534 1 ...518 3

Soon after 6 o'clock the men went to their quarters to recuperate for their list appearance on the track. There were enough people present to make a great noise at 8 o'clock, when the doors of the little huts were opened and the men stepped out on the track again. Fitzgerald was dressed in a new suit of white flaunch tights. Noremac had on a white racing suit with a bine silk cap and breech cloth. Herty suck to his purple colors, and seemed better able to bear the torture of the last miles than the others. Hughes had on a new silk shirt, but no trappings could light up the deathly pailor of his face and the almost hidden stare of his sunken eyes. The men ran a little together, with the exception of Hughes. Rowell came in the Garden at 9 o'clock, and he watched the last laps of his former rivals. Toward the end the appiance became constant.

Herty halted as he came around, and went back to his quarters for the last time. The crowd yelled, the band played furiously and the six-days match was ended. Fitzgerald and Herty were taken to the Putnam Honse. Noremae went to his backer's house at No. 1½ Rector-st., and Hughes went to his home in East Ninety-third-st.

Financially the walk was a failure. It was expected that the race would be the most successful one yet held, on account of the men who were to be the contestants and the fact of the rivalry between Hazael and Rowell, the two Englishmen. After they withdrew on the fourth day, the interest that had been manifested perceptibly decreased, and the attendance was very small during the remainder of the race. The managers would not make a statement yesterday of the receipts or expenses. It is estimated that the expenses will be not far from $20,000. This includes $10,000, for rent, the pay roll and the cost of alterations in the building, the track, etc. It is said that the receipts from the box office and the sale of privileges will a little more than pay expenses, leaving only a pittance for the men. Fitzgerald will get 70 per cent of the sweepstakes, which amount to $4,500. The scores at the finish were as follows:
